Remark

It is an honor for me to give a remark on this “International Office Guide Book, President University”. This is the first attempt of us to further provide some highlights of the duties and responsibilities of International Office, President University. By providing this guide book, we hope that all units, and more specifically study programs could be able to know, understand and more importantly to work together with the International office, PresUniv to further internationalize our beloved university. As we may all aware, in this era globalization it is more than necessary for any higher education institution/ universities, including PresUniv to be able to engage with other international universities to collaborate. The main goals of this international collaboration are to further provide better academic and non academic services. On top of that, by having fruitful international collaboration, we would also be able to strengthen the academic and non academic quality of our campus. Last but certainly not least, we do hope this small guide book would be able to direct us to have more concrete international collaborations for the betterment of President University in the future.

Prof. Anak Agung Banyu Perwita, Ph.D
Vice Rector for Student Affairs and Cooperation
President University

Remark

Hello World!

It is an immense pleasure for me to introduce International Office as one of vital units at President University, Indonesia. The Office aims to foster campus internationalization which is often seen as a two-way street: reaching out to the world and bringing the world home. Therefore, in this section, I'd like to give credit to International Student and Scholar Service (ISSS) Bureau for their relentless efforts in ensuring that all international students and lecturers can come and stay in Indonesia during their period of study. Second, I'd like to give credit to Study Abroad (SA) Bureau which provides various opportunities for local and international students to study at partner universities overseas. Third, I'd like to give credit to Intercultural Outreach Program (IOP) Bureau which offers various short-term cultural and language programs in Indonesia and overseas. Forth, I'd like to give credit to Communication and Documentation (CAD) Bureau which ensures all international programs are properly documented and published in various Universities' printed and social media. And last but not the least, the Administration and Legal (AL) Bureau which ensures all the administration tasks and paper works of International Office are taken care of. We genuinely believe that campus internationalization is the key to remain relevant in education sector. Besides, students who take part in campus internationalization and thus acquire global competencies will likely see differences in the world as opportunities to collaborate and learn from each other, instead of threats that require violent defense.

Jhanghiz Syahrivar, S.E., M.M.
Director of International Office
President University, Indonesia

International Exchange Alumni, The U.S. Department of State.
Institute of International Education (IIE) Alumni, U.S.

1.4. Flow of Activities

Explanations:

1. International Office will contact universities or institutions overseas for partnership opportunities.
2. Once a partner university has been identified, International Office will encourage the signing of MoU which mentions general activities to be conducted together.
3. International Office will set priorities on which activities to be conducted. An MoA concerning each activity will be made.
4. Once an MoA has been signed, International Office will start socializing selected programs to students and faculty members.
5. Once participants of an international program have been identified, International Office will process the documents required, such as application form, letter of support, visa, etc.
6. Once the documents have been completed, International Office and its partners will commence the program.
7. When the program is finish, International Office will make a report or collecting the report from the participants.
8. International Office will distribute questionnaires to participants and its partners to evaluate the program effectiveness.

2. International Student and Scholar Service

The Bureau of International Student and Scholar Service (ISSS) provides a wide range of services to all International students and lecturers in relation with Study Permit & Student Visa, Teaching Permit & Working Visa, and all kinds of permits concerning their presence in Indonesia up to the termination of their study and working period and their return to their home countries.

ISSS Bureau also controls Data Collection and Analysis Unit, Field Operation Unit & Meal Card Distribution Unit.

Data Collection and Analysis Unit is responsible with the management and control of all passports and government-related permits of both international students and lectures. The Unit is also responsible for collecting and analyzing data of all International students and lectures and providing information to Director of International Office.

Field Operation Unit is responsible in aiding all international students & lectures for the followings:

- Visit Visa extension for new international students.
- Stay Permit.
- Controls of the International students & lectures.
- Stay Permit extension for old international students.

Besides providing services to all international students who need meal allowance, Meal Card Distribution Unit is also responsible with assisting the international students to receive hospital bill reimbursement.

2.1. The Procedure of Hospital Bill Re- Imbursement.

- When you are sick, you must first go to President Clinic for treatment.
- If President Clinic is unable to provide effective treatment due to the type or severity of the illness, President Clinic will issue you a referral letter approving treatment at an alternative facility or hospital.

- You may not go to any other hospitals without such a referral letter. Failure to have a referral letter will result in denial of reimbursement for the Hospital Bill.
- After you have received treatment from the approved hospital and you have discharged from care, you must request an original Hospital Bill.
- Submit the Hospital Bill to Mr Nugi in the OISSS room number 213 Presunive Campus no later than one month after the date written on the Hospital Bill to receive re-imbusement.
- You will be reimbursed for the expense shown on the bill within one month.

2.2. The Payment of Meal Allowance

- Meal Allowance is to be distributed during the first five working days of the month to international students who are entitled for it. You may drop your Flazz Cards at the Office of International Student Services room : 213 on the 2nd floor from 8.00 AM until 10.00 AM (Maximum 67 Flazz Cards per day in person), and you can take your Flazz Cards back at the same office from 2.00 PM until 5.00 PM in person. Students, who fail to turn up on the aforementioned date and time, can take the cash in the following month only.
- Students who fail to collect meal allowance for three months consecutively, may not claim the said three months-meal allowance afterwards. Please make sure that you claim your allowance on time.
- International students who are doing the internship program, taking holidays overseas and staying in the hospital cannot claim their meal allowance.
- International students may take the cash up to Rp. 600.000,-

2.3. Immigration & Travel

The ISSS Bureau is responsible to help International students solve their problems related to Passports, Study Permits, Student Visas, Stay Permit, Exit Re-entry Permits, Police Report Certificates and other related immigration documents, as well as other services including Driving Licence, Opening BCA Bank Account and Meal Cards

3. Education Abroad Bureau

Education abroad program is intended to give the opportunity for Presuiv students to develop and enhance their academic knowledge and global competencies overseas. The program period is typically 1 semester up to 2 years, depending on which program they wish to take. Education Abroad has several programs as shown below:

3.1. Semester Abroad

Semester abroad is a program which allows students to study overseas for one semester or more by taking some relevant courses offered at partner universities. Upon the completion of the program, the credits obtained at host university will be transferred to Presuniv. Students may or may not be charged the tuition fees at partner universities. Before joining the program, students must consult with their Heads of Study Programs and Deans.

3.2. Semester Exchange

Semester exchange program is similar with semester abroad program; however, it allows both universities to send and exchange their students for a semester or two. Students at participating universities will be exempted from tuition fees, except the living costs. It is not compulsory, however, to exchange students at an exact semester.

3.3. Dual Degree and Double Degree

Joint degree and dual degree are the study programs developed by President University and its partners. Students who pursue these programs will study and finish their education at two different universities. There are several differences between joint degree and dual degree programs:

	Joint Degree	Dual Degree
1	Students pursue only one study program at two different universities.	Students pursue two study programs at two different universities.
2	The scheduled time frame for the completion of a joint degree is significantly longer than the time it would take to complete a degree in general. (4 years for 1 study program)	The scheduled time frame for the completion of a dual degree is significantly shorter than the time it would take to complete both degrees individually. (4 years for 2 study programs)
3.	Students will receive only one degree, either a national degree from the individual institutions or a jointly	Students will receive two degrees from two different universities.

Semester abroad, semester exchange, joint degree and dual degree are the programs that require partnerships between Presuniv and universities overseas. To run these programs, the deans of the study program have an essential role, which will be explained in the next diagram:

3.4. Flow of Activities for Outbound Student Mobility

Explanations:

1. International Office identifies students who wish to participate in out bound student mobility.
- 2a. Students have references on which universities/international prgrams/ countries they wish to go.
- 2b. Students don't have references on which universities/international programs/countries they wish to go.
- 3a. If students have references, International Office will check its database.
- 3b. If students don't have references, International Office will provide alternatives from its database.
- 4a. Once references have been identified, International Office will verify terms and conditions (or MoA) in effect for international programs.
- 4b. Inputs for new collaboration inniatives.
5. International Office will liase with Heads of Study Programs and/or Deans for administration purposes, such as matching syllabus, student permission, etc. International Office will also convey student's intention to participate in international programs with partner universities.
- 6a. If Heads of Study Programs and partner universities confirm/approve, International Office will help students processing documents required, such application forms, passports, visa, etc.
- 6b. If Heads of Study Program and/or partner universities don't confirm/ approve, International Office will inform the students concerned and look for new collaboration innitiatives (see point 4b).
7. Once the documents have been completed, International Office with partner universities will run/oversee the program participated by students.
8. Upon completion of the program, International Office will make a report or ask the participants to make the report.
9. International Office will evaluate the program by giving questionnaires to participants and partner universities.

3.5. Preparations for Masters Degree Overseas

Presuniv students who are going to continue their studies will be provided with a variety of information about graduate programs and scholarship opportunities by Education Abroad Bureau.

Education Abroad Bureau will work closely with the Intercultural Outreach Program Bureau to assist Presuniv students to pursue their masters degree. In this case is to organize an international education fairs/presentations/seminars/workshops in which International Office will invite partner universities, higher education agencies, scholarship providers to meet Presuniv students.

3.6. Postgraduate Diploma (PgD) Program

International Office of Presuniv, and President Development Centre (PDC) work together in conducting a Postgraduate Diploma program. This program is not only intended for the Presuniv alumni, but also for professionals who have completed their bachelor studies.

a. What is PgD

Postgraduate diplomas (PGDip, PgDip, PG Dip, PGD or PgD) and certificates (PGCert, PgCert, PG Cert, PGC or PgC) usually follow Bachelors study in a similar subject. They are both at level 7 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF) and generally vocational in nature, which makes them a popular choice for professionals looking to boost their CV.

The key difference between the two is that a postgraduate diploma is more extensive. Postgraduate diplomas require that you gain 120 credits, the equivalent of 30 weeks' full-time study. Meanwhile, a postgraduate certificate usually requires just 60 credits, the equivalent of 15 weeks' full-time study. Diplomas take around 6-12 months to complete when taken on a full-time basis, but part-time study can take up to a few years. Both diplomas and certificates are usually classified into distinction, merit and pass.

Postgraduate diplomas and certificates are an increasingly popular choice for Bachelors graduates looking to improve their career prospects by building on their existing skills and knowledge

Both qualifications offer Masters-level specialism without the dissertation, while allowing students to discover a greater range of career options. Most graduates quickly enter jobs directly related to their subject, with others using the qualification as a springboard for further study.

b. Benefits for Joining PgD Program:

- Credits earned can be transferred to MBA programs abroad.
- Flexible schedule.
- Earn the certificate of completion and degree from partner universities.
- Tutored by lecturers of President University .
- Affordable fees.
- Does not require a thesis to complete the program.

c. Modules to be taken are as follows

- Managing Human Capital and Leadership (MHCL)
- Marketing Management (MM)
- Financial Analysis, Management and Entrepreneurship (FAME)
- Strategic Management (SM)

The participants get to choose 2 out of 3 elective modules:

- International Marketing Management (IMM)
- Corporate Finance (CF)
- International Business (IB)

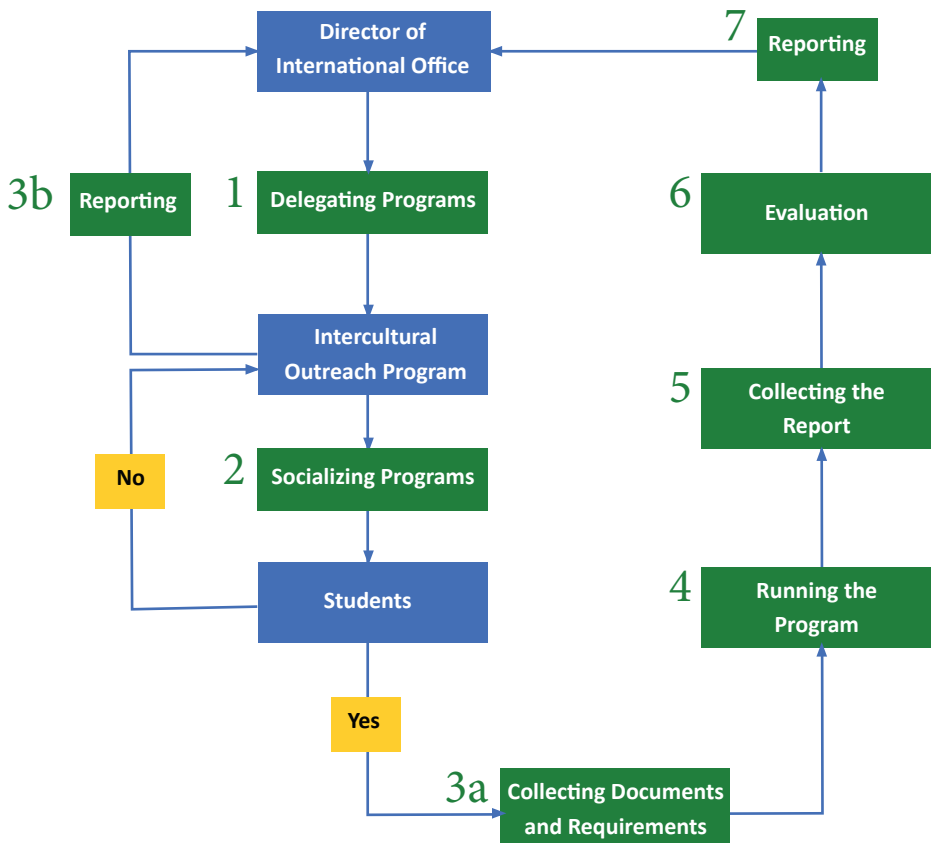

To complete the PGD program, it takes a total of 6 modules of 120 credits (1 year).

4. Intercultural Outreach Program (IOP)

Intercultural Outreach Programs, a bureau under International Office at President University, reaches out both domestically and internationally to provide custom intercultural education programs to various groups and individuals. We utilize the expertise and abundant resources of the university and the surrounding President University community to allow our participants to achieve peak performance in the international and domestic arena. Our custom programs emphasize education through experience and are individually designed to meet the needs of the program participants.

IOP provides customized, short-term program for students, faculty, and professional groups domestically and internationally. Programs run by IOP are Cultural Immersion Programs, TOEFL (ITP), International Festivals, Edufair, International Seminars, International Tea time and many more.

4.1. Flow of Intercultural Outreach Program

Explanations :

1. Director of International Office will delegate international programs to Intercultural Outreach Program (IOP) Bureau.
2. IOP Bureau will socialize the programs to students and faculty members.
- 3a. If there are students who wish to participate in the programs, IOP Bureau will collect required documents, such as Visa and passport, letters of recommendation, Financial support (Copy Parents Bank account), Recent Photograph, letter of support from the International Office, Etc.
- 3b. If there is no student who is interested in participating in the programs, IOP Bureau will report to the Director of International Office.
4. IOP Bureau will run and/or oversee the implementation of the program.
5. IOP Bureau will make a report or collect the report from the participants.
6. IOP Bureau will evaluate the program by giving questionnaires to participants and partner universities.
7. IOP Bureau will report to the Director of International Office.

4.2. Programs

Provides customized, short-term program for students, faculty, and professional groups domestically and internationally. There are various programs run by Intercultural Outreach as shown below:

a. Cultural Immersion and Language Program

The main purpose of President University Cultural Immersion Program (PUCIP) is to enhance local and international students' understandings and knowledge about various cultures, people from diverse backgrounds, and the world. Through this program, both local and international students can acquire one of the essential skills living in the globalization era, which is global mindset and competence.

President University Cultural Immersion Program (PUCIP) conducted in Indonesia targets youngsters from all over the world who wish to learn Indonesian diverse culture and its national language (Bahasa Indonesia), build friendships and networks with Indonesians, and visit some famous tourist places. The aim of the program is to broaden foreigners perspectives and understanding on Indonesia, the people and its unique culture. PUCIP which typically lasts for 2 weeks is a combination of in-class and out-of-class learning.

Cultural immersion program can be carried in the country and outside the country in collaborations with partner universities. The cultural immersion programs conducted in Indonesia can be participated by both local and foreign students, whereas the ones conducted overseas can only be participated by local students due to the University's policy in international activities.

b. TOEFL (ITP)

President University monthly TOEFL Test open for public. Every test is normally participated by at least 30 participants, among them are foreign students. The test is conducted by the International Office of the University in collaborations with International Education Service (IES) and the TOEFL provider in U.S and is conducted every month in Cikarang, precisely on the third week of every month. For your information, the TOEFL ITP is cheaper than the TOEFL iBT and is normally used as a partial requirement to apply for scholarships or work. The result is valid for 2 years.

c. International Festival

International Festival can be carried out on campus or overseas. The festival is normally participated by local and international students who perform various dances and arts, cook various cuisines, wear vibrant costumes, and show crafts from cultures and people from around the world.

d. Education fair

The International Office of President University organized an annual International Edufair inviting top universities from USA, UK, Australia, Europe, Japan, Malaysia, and more. The purpose of the edufair is to prepare President University students who wish to continue their studies abroad.

e. International Seminars

International Seminars have proven to be an important activity, bringing together practitioners, ambassadors, businessmen, leaders, faculty members, and students, to discuss various topics, such as business, bilateral and multilateral relationships, economics, international issues, and many more.

e. International Tea Time

A regular gathering designed to bring together local and international students for conversation and fun activities. The students can meet, play games, talk, and enjoy getting to know each other. International tea and snacks will be provided.

f. World Quest Competition.

World Quest is competition that invites teams from local businesses, non-profits, community groups, school and other organizations compete for prizes in his international knowledge competition. Challenging questions are prepared for the competition relating to current events, geography, international politics, world history and foreign policy.

4.3. Who attends Intercultural Outreach Programs?

We provide a broad range of innovative international study programs, study tours, language immersion programs, faculty-led programs and customized international study programs for undergraduate and graduate university students, university faculty, teachers, and other mid-career professionals.

4.4 What can I expect from an Outreach Program?

You can expect a high quality program designed to meet your needs and objectives with:

- Opportunities to improve English communication skills
- An intense schedule with a rigorous academic curriculum
- A safe, supportive and stimulating university environment
- Opportunities for “real” English use with site visits, field trips, internships, and home-stays
- Small classes
- Caring, qualified instructors
- Personal care and attention to the needs of every participant
- A Certificate of Achievement upon completion of the program

4.5. Custom Designed Training Programs for International Groups

We specialize in designing short training programs tailored to meet the objectives of University students. Our goal is to provide an intensive immersion experience in culture and language. We invite you to collaborate with the President University to create a unique and powerful program for your group.

All programs emphasize education through experience in addition to specialized professional development seminars. Academic components (courses, projects, seminars, guest lectures, panel discussions, etc.) are custom-designed to meet the participants’ objectives and integrated with experiential learning activities such as visits to businesses and/or schools, as well as with cultural, social, and recreational events, and opportunities for interaction with the President University and university communities. Every program includes opportunities for participants to network with colleagues, observe and share ideas during numerous visits to businesses, schools, and other related organizations.

4.6. Custom Designed Training Programs for Domestic Groups

Bureau of Intercultural Outreach Programs delivers custom-designed cross-cultural training programs for organizations that have multicultural work forces and clients at home and/or operations abroad. President University offers a full range of educational and research opportunities to meet a variety of needs.

These domestic training programs support a variety of functions in organizations that strive for success in the global economy of the 21st century. By building a greater awareness of cultural differences and similarities, these training programs are customized to focus on and enhance such functional concerns as employee recruitment/retention, customer service, team-building, succession-planning, and leadership development.

These programs help organizations cope with cultural differences at home and abroad by developing employees' global competencies through training on topics such as cross-cultural communication, diversity, pre-departure, re-partition, culture, and corporate culture. They also build long-term skills associated with success in any cross-cultural situation. Our faculty and staff have the experience, expertise, and resources to deliver powerful training programs.

4.7. Student Buddy

f. Work Flow

Explanations:

1. Journalist and photographer come to the event. Journalist records the important points, while photographer takes pictures.
2. After the event finishes, journalist compiles the important points to become an article. Meanwhile, photographer sorts the pictures. Only high quality pictures will be selected.
3. Journalist gives the article to the editor and editor edits it. Pictures are directly given to the designer.
4. After the materials of the event (article & pictures) are complete, designer designs the article.
5. After all materials for PresUniv Magazine have been designed, designers make the layout, put the page numbers, and make the table of content. Then, the first draft is ready to print.
6. Editorial team which consists of journalist, photographer, editor, and designer check all the aspects (content, design, the quality of the pictures, pages, and layout). After checking it, they have to fix the mistakes they found, print, and re-check it.
7. After the editorial team makes sure that there is no mistake, they will print the final draft and give the soft copy to the printing agency.
8. After the magazine is printed, then PreUniv Magazine team have to publish and distribute it at Campus and some companies in Jababeka.

g. Flow of Materials

c. Cultural Adjustment

Adjustment to any new situation or culture is not accomplished in just a few days but is rather an ongoing process. Four stages of cultural adjustment are listed below for your consideration :

Honeymoon Stage

This stage is characterized by your happiness, anticipation, and excitement. Everything is new. The “dream” to study in the Indonesia is coming true. This is an exciting time and in all the enthusiasm you frequently nod or smile to indicate understanding when in fact you have not understood. As your misunderstandings mount up, you are likely to experience the second stage of cultural adjustment.

Hostility Stage

During this time you have periods of great frustration, anger, anxiety, and sometimes depression. Following the initial excitement has come frustration with the college bureaucracy and the weariness of speaking in and listening to English everyday. Sleep patterns may be disrupted. You may suffer from indigestion and be unable to eat. Often your reaction is to reheat the new environment in which you feel discomfort. You may think, “If I feel bad and it’s because of them.” At this point, you may display ‘hostility’ toward the new culture. There may be anger over minor frustration, fear and mistrust of Americans, frequent absenteeism, lack of interest, and lack of motivation. Many academic problems begin during this stage. The hostility stage can be a difficult and painful stage. Realizing this can be very beneficial in moving on to the third stage of cultural adjustment.

Humor Stage

This stage follows when you begin to relax in a new situation and to laugh at minor mistakes and misunderstandings, which previously would have caused major headaches. This more relaxed state of being occurs after you have made some friends, learned to manage the size and complexity of the University, understand your studies, and you begin to pass your test.

Home Stage

You find yourself here as you are able to retain an allegiance to your home culture, but also “feel at home” in your newly acquired culture. You have successfully adjusted to the norms and standards of the University and the Indonesia, and should be commended for the ability to live successfully in two cultures.

7.6. Student Exchange Application Form

President University Student Exchange Program Application Form

Thank you for your interest in President University, Indonesia!

Since 2001, President University has been actively promoting student exchange program with its partner universities in various countries. Cultural Immersion Program, Language Program, Semester Abroad, and several others which promote the inbound and outbound student mobility are generally classified as a student exchange program.

President University is pleased to extend this opportunity to all partner universities that wish to collaborate in designing international programs that will benefit students' overall understanding about the world, hence promoting peace and wisdom.

The program will include a two-way exchange between President University and its partner universities; however, it is not compulsory for the exchange of students to take place at the same semester or year.

What to Expect as a Participant

Depending on the specific program that a student participates in, the student may expect an improvement in the cross-cultural understandings and foreign languages. If the context of student exchange is a semester abroad which allows transfers of credits from host to home university, participants will not be charged any tuition fees while studying at Host University except for the fees that are related with lodging and accommodation (if applicable). Participants are also responsible for expenses related to the application process (copying, mailing, photographs, etc.), passport fees, and spending money for souvenirs and other items. All related cost during the study should be discussed with partner universities before the commencement of the program.

Participants of the program should:

- Have a strong desire to learn from others
- Show the ability and willingness to share best practices and lessons learned from their own experiences
- Be open to experiencing new cultures and ways of thinking
- Have a desire to share their own culture and values with youth and adults from different cultures, religions and varied backgrounds without prejudice
- Work with diverse groups throughout all aspects of the programs
- Be flexible in working with other participants and coordinators during scheduling, travel, etc.
- Be committed to implementing a community initiative upon their return home

Who is eligible to apply?

Any students and scholars from partner universities.
